

DOLOMITE

Characteristics:

Dolomite is a natural mineral containing calcium and carbonates in equivalent parts. It may be used in glazes whenever both magnesia and calcia are called for. It is used to create satin glaze surfaces and to add diversity to glossy glazes. Dolomite is also used as an auxiliary clay body flux generally for bodies maturing under cone 9/10.